One Vision | One Card | Countless Solutions

TSYS[®]

TSYS Advanced AuthControl is a patent-pending processing solution that supports wellness incentive programs, which allows members to redeem rewards at select retailers and plan-specified merchants. The solution also provides product-level decisioning at select retailers using TSYS' open-loop purse technology. At TSYS, we bring together expertise in banking, payments and healthcare administration to help you grow your business, drive member engagement and manage costs.

Benefits

- Reinforces healthy lifestyles to help reduce healthcare cost
- Controls the use of incentive dollars as directed by program rules
- Supports the ability to include or exclude customized product categories such as healthy foods
- Enables members to earn reward dollars for performing healthy behaviors such as getting a flu shot or completing a health risk assessment
- Uses a plan-branded Visa® or Mastercard® that can also serve as a medical ID card
- Provides advanced decision logic such as real-time processing and authorization accept or decline
- Configurable to any wellness incentives program currency type including dollars, points or credits
- Supported by robust program performance tracking

Driving Member Engagement

In support of design customization to increase participation, TSYS can direct spend of wellness incentive dollars against merchant type for public utilities and transportation, healthcare providers and partner retailers, including our newest partner, Walmart®.
